MI Choice Basics

The MI Choice program provides services and supports to people in their homes. Your home could be a house, apartment, adult foster care, or a home for the aged. MI Choice services are not available to people who live in a nursing home.

MI Choice serves adults aged 18 or older who need services like those provided in a nursing home. If you are younger than 65, you must have a disability. You also have to qualify for Medicaid.

When you enroll in MI Choice, you can get Medicaid services, plus MI Choice services. The services and supports available through the MI Choice program include:

- Adult Day Health (Adult Day Care)
- Chore Services
- Community Living Supports
- Community Transition Services
- Counseling
- Environmental Accessibility Adaptations (Home Modifications)
- Fiscal Intermediary
- Goods and Services
- Home Delivered Meals
- Non-Emergency Transportation
- Personal Emergency Response System
- Nursing Services (Preventative Nursing)
- Private Duty Nursing
- Respite
- Specialized Medical Equipment and Supplies
- Supports Coordination
- Training

There are 20 waiver agencies in Michigan that can enroll you in the MI Choice program. These waiver agencies are Prepaid Ambulatory Health Plans and help you decide which MI Choice home and community-based services are right for you. They each have a managed care contract with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services.

What to Expect

Assessment

A nurse and a social worker will meet with you and friends or family you want to include. We call these professionals “supports coordinators” because they will help you get the services and support you need to stay at home. You will need to tell them how you do things like bathing, eating, and getting dressed every day. They will ask you about people who help you do these things. The supports coordinators will suggest other services and supports that may help you. You choose the supports and services you need in your home, and can make your own suggestions.

Arranging Services

Once you choose the services you want to have in your home, the supports coordinators will make sure you start getting them. They will work with your friends and family who help you to make sure they keep helping you. MI Choice wants to make it easier for others to help you, not replace them.

After Services Are In Place

Every month, your supports coordinator will call you to make sure you are doing well. They will also visit you at home a couple of times each year. They will make sure your services and supports are working for you. You should let them know about any problems you have or changes that you might need in your services. Remember, supports coordinators are there to help you stay at home.

Person-Centered Planning

Person-centered planning is a way of talking about and planning for your life. It focuses on what you can do, what you want your life to be like, and who you want involved. It builds on your strengths, and honors your choices and preferences.

With person-centered planning, you choose who is invited to your planning meetings. You choose what services you want, who will deliver those services, and when and how to deliver them. Your supports coordinator will help you develop a plan that will allow you to stay at home and be a part of your community.

Self-Determination

Some people want to control more than what is included in their plan. They want to control their budget, arrange their services, and hire their aides. Self-determination is a way for people to have this level of control and responsibility for their services and supports.

You can ask your supports coordinator for more information about the self-determination option.

Know Your Rights

MI Choice participants have the right to:

- Always be treated with respect and dignity by people who are helping you.
- Be free from abuse, restraints, seclusion, and the misuse of your property.
- Choose where in the community you would like to receive your services and supports.
- Choose the services and supports included in your plan and help develop that plan.
- Have your cultural and religious choices respected and addressed.
- Involve anyone in your service planning process.
- Receive a complete copy of your plan for services and supports.
- Understand the services and supports suggested in your plan and that you may refuse any of them.
- Talk about ideas you have to replace suggested services and supports that you do not want.
- Have your health, social and financial records kept confidential.
- Refuse to provide any information you do not wish to share. (Some information is required to make sure you qualify for the program. If you refuse to provide this information, you might not be able to be in the program.)
- Ask about or request copies of policies and procedures from your supports coordinator.
- Ask about costs, worker credentials, and how workers are supervised.
- Look at bills for your services, regardless of how those bills are paid.
- Contact your supports coordinator with questions or complaints.
- File a grievance when you are unhappy with your supports and services or your workers.
- Appeal adverse decisions made about the services you receive or your eligibility.

Your Responsibilities

MI Choice participants have the responsibility to:

- Choose the services and supports included in your plan, help develop that plan, and know and follow what is in that plan.
- Tell your supports coordinator about changes in what you need.
- Tell your supports coordinator about other services and supports you may have.
- Tell your supports coordinator about any other insurance you have.
- Know the information in this handbook.
- Ask questions or let us know when you do not understand something.
- Be available so that you can receive your services.
- Let us know as soon as possible when you will not be available to receive a service.
- Keep valuable things such as keepsakes, money, credit cards, jewelry, and guns or other weapons in a safe place.
- Tell your supports coordinator when you are concerned about your workers.
- Make sure your home is safe and non-threatening for people who are helping you. This includes:
 - Being respectful to workers who come into your home.
 - Not verbally or physically abusing the people trying to help you.
 - Not using profane or offensive language toward the people who are trying to help you.
 - Keeping pets outside or otherwise secure so that your worker can give you the services and supports you need.
 - Being a responsible gun or weapon owner. This means that all weapons will not pose a threat, intended or unintended, real or implied, to the people helping you.
 - Making sure there are no illegal or illicit activities happening in your home. Some of the people who come to your home will have to report these things to Adult Protective Services.

Michigan has many options for Medicaid eligible people who need long-term services and supports. These are included in the list below. If you would like more information about any of these options, please ask your supports coordinator. Also, it is important to tell your supports coordinator if you use any of these options now or in the future.

If you are 55 years of age or older and receive long-term care services, you may be subject to Estate Recovery. Contact your supports coordinator for more information.

Quality Assurance/Consumer Advisory Teams

The MI Choice program relies on the help and input of participants, family members, and advocates. There are workgroups at local waiver agencies and at the statewide level who meet throughout the year to discuss good things about the program and ways the program could improve. If you or someone you know wants to join one of these groups, let your supports coordinator know. Both groups are always looking for people who want to help discuss ways to improve the MI Choice program.

Abuse & Neglect

Everyone deserves to feel safe from harm and be treated with respect.

Every woman, man and child has the right to feel safe from physical, emotional, mental and verbal harm from those they live with, those who care for them and those who interact with them on a daily basis.

Am I Being Abused?

Please think about how you are being treated.

Is someone...

- embarrassing you or making fun of you in front of others?
- making you feel like you are unable to make a decision?
- using intimidation or threats to gain compliance?
- treating you roughly (pushing, grabbing, hitting, pinching, shoving etc.)?
- blaming you for how they feel or act?
- making you feel like there is no way out?
- preventing you from doing things you want to do, like spending time with friends and family?
- limiting your use of the telephone?
- breaking assistive devices or denying health care?

Do You...

- sometimes feel scared about how another person will act?
- find yourself constantly making excuses for another's behavior?
- believe you can help the other person change only if you change something about yourself?
- try not to do or say anything you think might cause conflict?
- always do what the other person wishes instead of doing what you would like to do?

If you answered yes to any of these, please talk to someone.
Without help, the abuse will continue.

If you are in immediate danger, call 911!

To report abuse, call:

Emergency Preparedness:

Advance Directives

Advance Directives are legal documents. They are a way for you to tell your family, friends, and health care providers about your wishes for end-of-life care. There are two types of advance directives.

Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care (DPOA-HC) - This legal document names another person to make health decisions for you when you are not able. This is called a “health care proxy.” The proxy should be someone who will follow your wishes.

Do-Not-Resuscitate (DNR) Declaration – This legal document lets others know that you do not want anyone to try to revive you if you stop breathing or if your heart stops.

A “living will” is not a legally binding Advance Directive in Michigan. However, a living will is sometimes used with a valid Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care to help the Patient Advocate named in the DPOA-HC to understand your wishes.

You need to tell your supports coordinator if you have an Advance Directive. The waiver agency will keep a copy in your record. You and your DPOA should also keep a copy at home in a safe place. If you have any questions about Advance Directives or if you need help finding an Advance Directive form, please call your supports coordinator.

Grievances and Appeals

Grievances:

When you are unhappy with your services, you may file a grievance. Grievances are complaints about things like how you are treated or how your worker does their job. The waiver agency must tell you how to file a grievance and can help you fill out forms. The waiver agency will let you know they received your grievance and will work with you to resolve your complaint. The waiver agency has 90 days to resolve your complaint.

Appeals:

You can appeal any decision about your services and supports that your waiver agency makes. This includes denying a service that you asked for and reducing, suspending, or terminating services that you already have. When the waiver agency makes these decisions, they must send you a letter called an adverse benefit determination. This letter contains information about the changes in your services and your rights. When you do not agree with the changes or the decision made, you can ask for an appeal.

It is important that you ask for an appeal within 60 days from the date of the adverse benefit determination letter. You can ask for an appeal orally or in writing. When you make an oral request, you must follow that up with a written request. The letter will explain this process to you. Your provider or authorized representative may also file an appeal on your behalf. If someone is filing an appeal for you, you must give him or her written consent to do this. If you do not provide this consent, the waiver agency will deny the appeal request.

If you would like your services to continue without any changes when you ask for an appeal, you must ask for the appeal before the effective date of the action (usually 12 days after the date on the letter). When you do this, your services will not change until after a decision is made about your appeal.

The waiver agency must make a decision and send you a letter telling you about it within 30 days from the day you ask for an appeal. The letter they send is called the Appeal Resolution Notice.

You can request a fast appeal if you feel the changes to your services will harm you. If a fast appeal is granted, the waiver agency must make a decision and send you the Appeal Resolution Notice within 72 hours. In cases where taking longer than 72 hours may benefit you, the waiver agency may ask for a longer time to make their decision.

To ask for an Appeal, call or send in a written request to:

UPCAP Appeals Section

PO Box 606, Escanaba, MI 49829

1-800-305-8137 / 906-786-4701 / TTY Number: 7-1-1

Fax: 906-786-5853

State Fair Hearings:

There are two situations where you may ask for a State Fair Hearing.

- 1) You receive an Appeal Resolution Notice that is not in your favor.

The waiver agency will send you information about how to ask for a hearing with your Appeal Resolution Notice. If you do not ask for a State Fair Hearing, your services will change as planned.

You can ask for a State Fair Hearing for up to 120 days from the date of the Appeal Resolution Notice. You can only keep your services if you ask for the hearing within 12 days of the Appeal Resolution Notice AND ask to keep your services. If you do not ask for a State Fair Hearing within 12 days or if you do not ask for your services to continue, the waiver agency will make the changes as planned.

- 2) You asked for an appeal, but the waiver agency did not make a decision within 30 days, or 45 days if an extension was granted.

For more information about State Fair Hearings, you may contact the Michigan Administrative Hearing System at 1 (877) 833 – 0870.
